

POE'S GIRLS

Edgar Allan Poe (1809-1849) loved many women during his brief life – unfortunately, most of them were dead. Check out some of his tales and poems regarding the “loved dead.”

Annabel Lee (poem)

The Assignation (short story)

Berenice (short story)

The Black Cat (short story)

Eleonora (short story)

Eulalie (poem)

The Fall of the House of Usher (short story)

For Annie (poem)

Lenore (poem)

Ligeia (short story)

Morella (short story)

The Mystery of Marie Roget (short story)

The Oblong Box (short story)

The Oval Portrait (short story)

The Raven (poem)

To Helen (poem)

Ulalume (poem)

“The death of a beautiful woman is, unquestionably, the most poetical topic in the world” – Poe